after two men were out, and both men were left.

There was every indication that the Brook-lyns would add more runs to their credit in the sixth inning, but Suilivan held the patters in check with men on the bases. Both Anderson and Shindle singled, and when Corcoran advanced the men to third and second respectively on a sacrifice, there was gloom in the ranks of the local cranks. Sully then put on extra steam, and all that Lachance could do was to lift a short fly to Harry Davis, who quickly threw to the plate, causing Anderson to hug the base. McCarthy's bounder was going straight to George Davis when it hit Shindle, and the Brooklyns again took the field. The New Yorks squeezed out a run in their ing straight to George Davis wave to the field, die, and the Brooklyns again took the field. The New Yorks squeezed out a run in their half of the inning. For an opener Wilson singled, and Sullivan showed that he could sacrifice when such a play was needed. With two men out George Davis came to the rescue with a hit past Shindle, and Wilson cantered across the plate. In the last three innings the Brooklyns made a weak attempt to pull out a victory, McCarthy being the only player to reach first base. With Farrell on third er to reach first base.

interesting as any series played by any of the National League clubs. Vesterday's game at the Polo grounds between the New Yorks and Brooklyn's completed half of the series, and as the New Yorks won it is now an even thing. Like the five preceding games, the players fought desperately for every inch of ground, but the New Yorks deserved the victory, for they outplayed the Eastern 'ark contingent. One of the pleasing features was the shortness of the contest, a rare occurrence at the Polo grounds, only ninety-one minutes being required to play the game. There is no telling what might have happened had the Brooklyin played as well in the first luning as in the remainder of the game, as after that opening rally the local players found'the arather difficult matter to glide from base to base.

Although Sullivan pitched during the greater part of Saturday's game, Manager Irwin again selected the big fellow to shoot 'em across the plate, and he did very well. Farrell was a factor in several difficult plays, while Gleason cut off a few apparent hits, but the hero of the day was Harry Davis, who caught seven flies. He received a grand ovation in the third inning when he grabbed Daly's liner a few inches from the ground. Bill Clark saved Farrell from two errors by jumping in the air and milling down high-thrown balls. Capt. Griffin reported sick and Ander on took his place. "Andy" caught everything in sight.

Two chances were offered to the New Yorks for a double play in the first inning. Bill Clark's muff of Farrell's throw gave another life to the Brooklyns, but Foutz's men failed to take advantage of the misplay, for Shindle shot a hot one to G. Davis and a lightning double play took place. Then followed some poor work on the part of the Brooklyns. Van Haltren, After Gleason had moved up the base runners on a sacrine Harry Davis received a gift of first base. The "rooters" yelled with glee when Bill Clark shashed a single to right, which brought in George Davis and Tierman, and there was more shouting may for the part Hita-Rochester, 11: Wilkesbarre, 13. RUSIE LOSES HIS CASE.

The National League Directors Decide that the Fines Imposed Were Proper, PITTSBURGH, June 20. - The Board of Directors of the National League and American Association of Professional Baseball Clubs, at a meeting in this city to-day, decided that the fines imposed on pitcher Amos Rusie last year by President Freedman of the New York club were just and proper. This leaves the case of the big hoosier pitcher practically the same now as at the beginning of the season. It was a victory for President Freedman and a severe blow to seie and other ball players who may have Oliver Tebeau, manager-captain of the Cleveland team, was also remembered by the directors, and will receive a letter some morning this week informing him that he has been fined $200 for gross misconduct on the ball field, and if he does not settle within ten days he will not be eligible to play on any League grounds. It could not be learned who the director was that offered the resolution to censure and fine the fighting the resolution to censure and fine the fighting manager-captain of the Cleveland team, but that makes little difference, as the directors ordered President Young to Impose the fine on Tebeau and serve notice of their action.

The entire Board did not sit, Messrs, Vonderhorst of Baltimore and Stuckey of Louisville being absent. The members in attendance were President Kerr of Pittaburgh, President Soden of Boston, President Hart of Chicago, and President Magner of Washington. Col. Rogers, who represented President Freedman, was willing to admit reporters, but the Board decided otherwise.

represented President Freedman, was willing to admit reporters, but the Board decided otherwise.

John Montgomery Ward was attorney for Rusie, and the "Little Napoleon" did as much for the big pitcher as any person could have done under the circumstances. Col. Rogers contended that the fines were legally imposed, while Ward argued that they were not. After being in session for six hours the following statement was given out by President N. E. Young:

The case of the fining of Amos Rusie by the New York Basebail Club having come before the board of birectors of the National Loague and American Association of Professional Basebail Clubs for a hearing, and the Board having had submitted to it a large mass of testimony, after hearing arguments of counsel, the Board unanimously decided that the fines were properly imposed on Busie and snould not be remitted.

The heard decided to state by way of explanation, although not admitting any obligations on its part to explain the reasons for its conclusions, that a very great deal of wholly irrelevant matter presented by flusie's counsel was admitted by the loard over the strenuous and well and legally founded objections of Rr. Rogers, counsel for the New York Club, and arrived at their conclusion unanimously on a first leaf of a their conclusion unanimously on a first leaf loaritorer the saring lasting many hours and a patient consideration of the cutter matter at the end of the hearing.

ENTRIES FOR SHEEPSHEAD BAY. STAMFORD'S QUICK SAIL. Slemton Stables Have a Mortgage on the

The programme for Sheepshead Bay to-day includes the Tidal Stakes for three-year-olds a a mile and the Spring Stakes for two-year-olds over the Futurity course.

There have been many notable struggles for the Tidal, notably the never-to-be-forgotten dead heat between Pardee and Joe Cotton. Joe Cotton had won the Kentucky, Tennessee, and Coney Island Derbys, and Jim Williams looked upon the son of King Alfonso and Cottona as being invincible. Jimmy McLaughlin had the mount on the colt, and the talent plunged on the great three-year-old. Pardee was known to possess speed, but few persons looked for such a race as he gave the favorite. Fitzpatrick had the mount, and when the flag fell Pardee flew away from his field. It would have been an easy victory for him, but rounding the upper essy victory for him, but rounding the upper turn one of his Iront feet burst the had bad, shelly feet), and McLaughlin, by dint of the most terrific riding, got Joe Cotton up in time to make a dead heat.

The material for the Tidal of 1896 comprises the fleet Biemton pair, Hastings and Margrave, and they should run first and second if they are sont to the post. Internission is a good honest filly, but she is no match for the colts named at even weights. It would be interesting to see Hastings and Margrave thoroughly tried out. Not a few persons believe that Margrave is the speedier colt of the pair. He seems to be able to hold any of the sprinting division.

As for the Spring Stakes it has but six entries, including the winners Arbuckle and Lithos. This stake was conceded to George Kessler, but Trainer Byrnes keeps his good colt in the stable and is going for the money with his employer's Scottish Chieftain. Sir Moltke is a new one, and Tripping will carry the Keepe colors.

Twenty-one two-year-old fillies are named for the maidon races at four and a half furlongs, while fifteen timber-toppers are named for the hurdle race at one mile and three-quarters.

FLEET OF SMALL TACHTS HAVE A MERRY BACE ON THE SOUND.

The Annhi Lends the Thirty-footers and Paprika the Half-raters-Cella Pintshe First Among the Twenty-one-footers but Is Disqualified for Fouling Vaquero One of the prettiest yacht races sailed this season took place off Shippan Point, on the Sound, yesterday, when the Stamford Yacht Club of Stamford, Conn., held some special races for half-raters, 21 and 30 footers. Not only did a large fleet of boats start, but there was splendid breeze, and the little racers covered the course in record-breaking time. In addition to the racers there was a large fleet of steam and sailing craft present, among them being James D. Smith's schooner Viking. Mr. Smith, besides being Chairman of the America's Con Committee, is also Commodore of the Stamford Yacht Club, and the success of the regatta was in a large measure due to his efforts. Commodore H. M. Gillig, the popular leader of the Larchmont Club, who has just returned from Europe, was also very much in evidence on the 30-footer Musme. Other boats present were Vice-Commodore Howard C. Smith's steam yacht Hal-cyon, Rear Commodore F. M. Hoyt's cutter Norota, the Hannan boys' 34-rater Acushla, Percy Dow's schooner Alcoea, Alfred Marshall's steam yacht Levanter, H. K. McHarg's schooner Neaers, and the tug Excelsior, loaded to the guards with Stamford's prettiest girls. The steam yacht Haleyon, which was used as a judges' boat, carried the club's Regatta Com-mittee, consisting of E. E. Bruggerhof, J. R. Whiting, Jr., and Stewart W. Smith, While new at the business, they managed things exseedingly well. At precisely 11:30 o'clock, the advertised hour, the preparatory gun told the 30-footers to prepare for the start. fleet included the Vaquero III., Herman Duryca; Wawa, James Stillman; Hera, Raiph N. Ellis; Asaki, Bayard Thayer; Esperanza, A. S. Van Wiekle; Carolina, Pembroke Jones; Mai, O. G. Jennings. There were also the 21-footers Celia, C. A. Gould; Vaquero, W. G. Brokaw, and the half-raters Gnome, Rear commodore F. M. Hoyt; Saghaya, H. C. Smith; Paprika, C. Sherman Hoyt, and Microbe, Her-bert Sceley. In the half-rater race the Paprika wert seesey. In the half-rater race the Paprika won easily, while in the 21-foot class the Uelia, though finishing a few seconds ahead, was disqualified for carrying the Vaquero out of her course, and the latter boat was declared to be the winner. Amony the 30-footers Bayard Thayer's Asahi again showed her superiority and won by I minute and 29 seconds from Herman Durgea's Vaquero III., while the Esperanza was a close third.

man Duryea's Vaquero III., while the Esperanza was a close third.

The yachts got away in three divisions at five-minute intervals, and a one-gun start was used in every instance. The 30-foot class were sent over a triangular course, three miles to a leg, twice around, a distance of eighteen miles. The 21-footers smiled over a triangular course, two miles to a leg, twice around, a distance of tweive miles; while the half-raters went once around the last-named course. The first leg in every case was to windward. There was a fine sailing breeze from the southwest and the sky around the last-named course. The first leg in every case was to windward. There was a fine sailing breeze from the southwest and the sky almost cloudless, which made it an ideal racing day. The 30-footers, after the presaratory signal, were twisted and turned around the mark boat striving to get in position for the start, the gun being fired at 11:35 o'clock. So closely were the boats bunched that it was almost impossible to tell which got away first. As near as could be judged, however, the Musme was the first away, followed by the Vaquero III. Asaki, Esperanza, Mai, Wawa, Carolina, and Hera in the order named.

The 21-footers were started at 11:40 o'clock, the Cella getting away first. She was closely followed by the Vaquero, handled by Al Comancho. The half-raters were started at 11:45 o'clock, with the Paprika, Saghaya, Microbe, and Gnome crossing in the order named, the Gnome crossing in the order named, the Gnome being handleapped over eleven minutes. All went away on the starboard tack, and the 30-footers, after a long leg across the Sound, made a number of short hitches down to the turning mark. Bayari Thayer's Asahi quickly took the lead. The boats were timed as they rounded the first mark as follows:

Asahi, 12:15:46: Wawa, 12:15:52. Esperanza, 12:16:50 Vanuerolli, 12:16:08 Mai, 12:16:50 Mas. mark as 10:108;
Asahi, 12:15:45; Wawa, 12:15:52; Esperanza, 12:16:30; Vaquero III, 12:16:08; Mai, 12:16:52; Musme, 12:17:00; Carolina, 12:16:57; Hera, 12:21:45.

The tweaty-one footers and half-raters, which sailed over the shorter course, were timed as follows: Cella, 12:13:40; Vaquero, 12:15:10; Paj 13:25:35; Saghaya, 12:26:20; Microbe, 12:30:22

All set spinnakers to starboard for the run to the second mark, and as the leaders lost the breeze for a few moments the tail-enders among the 30-footers almost drew up even. The Asahi, however, managed to keep the lead, and as she gybed around the second mark the races were timed as follows: were timed as follows:

Asabi, 12 50 30: Waws, 12 50 55; Mai, 12 50 57;
Musne, 12 50 30: Waws, 12 50 55; Mai, 12 50 57;
Musne, 12 50 30: Naquere III, 12 51 05; Esperanza, 12 51 20; Carolina, 12 52 03; Hera, 12 58 22;

The twenty-one footers on rounding their mark were timed thus, Cella, 12 38 20; Vaquera, 12 39 47. From here it was a reach on the port tack with balloon jibs to the home mark, where the half-raters finished and were timed as follows: Paprika, 1:13 05; Sagliaya, 1:17 05; Microbe, 1:21 50; The rest of the fleet started on their second circuit of the course and were timed as follows:
Cella, 1:21 00; Vaquero, 1:21 10. Asabi, 1:10 31;

Cella, I. 21 (00), Vanuero, I. 21 (10), Asnhi, I. 10 (3); Wawa, I. 19 (5), Mal, I. (10 (5)); Valuero III., I. 21 (00), Musmo, I. 21 (10), Esperansa, I. 21 (3); Carolina, I. 21 (3); Hera, I. 22 (20). 1.21.08. Hera, 1.22.26.

It was nother beat for all hands to the first mark. The Asahi now drew away from the 30-footers, while the Celia just held her lead on the 21-footer Vaquero. The smaller boats rounded their mark as follows: Celia, 1.38.13; Vaquero, 1.38.23. The 30-footers were lined at their mark in this way:

A ahi, 1.50.12; Vaquero III., 2.01.27; Esperanza, 2.01.31; Mai, 2.02.16; Wawa, 2.02.20; Musme, 2.04.02; Carolina, 2.04.16; Hera, 2.04.20.

There was little change in positions to the and. A harr-raising finish between the Celia and Vaquero was one of the exciling incidents of the day. The Celia finished first, but infed e Vaquero away out of her course after she destablished an overlap. Sailing Master Al-omanchos of the Vaquero protested, and the ministree decided in his favor, giving the race

YACHTS IN A STIFF BREEZE. Nomad and Cygnet Salt a Pretty Ruce at the Pavonia Regatta. The annual regatta of the Pavonia Yacht Club was sailed yesterday on the lower bay in a brisk wind. A prettier race one could not wish for than that between the Cygnet and Nomad in class 6, which was for cabin sloops and cut-ters under 27 feet. The Nomad got away first by nearly a minute, and in the run down to the outer mark the Cygnet was just able to catch When homeward bound the Cygnet, which was the larger, tried in vain to get away, but the Nomad stuck like a leech, then gradually went to the front, and crossed the line nearly a minute in advance, winning by 3 minutes 37 econds on time allowance. The Cygnet is owned by Maxey More of the New York Ath letic Club, and no more crestfallen man could be found in town last night, as he purchased a new set of sails and made other alterations to his boat expressly for the race.

The Forsyth, owned by Alex F. Roe, gave the Princess a bad beating in class E, winning by minutes 40 seconds. Although the crew aboard the Eleas experienced trouble in crossing the line at the start, having lost 30 seconds of their time allowance, the boat finished a win-Winners at Latonia.

THE HORSE AND CARRIAGE TRADE intlafactory Business Reported by Dealers and Manufacturers.

Trade in the horse and carriage market during the past week has been quite up to the June average, the falling off expected to come with the approach of midsummer having thus far failed to materialize. Dealers say there is ground to hope for a fairly thriving business during the whole of the coming month.

The private sales of business and draught horses at Thomas F. Devine's stables, in West End avenue, near Sixty-fifth street, were uncommonly large last week, several car loads of serviceable and seasoned animals having been disposed of at current prices. The practice of selling everything subject to a fair trial and veterinary examination has won a big trade for Devine & Co.

J. F. Goodrich & Co., whose salesrooms are on Broadway at the corner of Third street, are just now showing a splendid lot of traps and carriages for summer driving in city and country. On the main floor are several remarkably fine victorias, spider phaetous, beach wagons, rock-victorias, spider phaetous, beach wagons, rockaways, and other seasonable carriages of fashionable color and design.

The old-established house of Studebaker
Bros., Cansa street, near Broadway, is well suppited with all of the vehicles for town and country use which are in demand at this season.
Their trade extends to Bermuda, Jamaics, and the West Indies as well as to all parts of the United States and Canada, and, as is usually the case where the stock is large and the factory facilities extensive, their prices are low.
C. C. Schildwachter, whose Park avenue factory, at 128th street, is the up-town headquarters for carriages and traps, is one of the builders who report business as being much better than at this time last year. Schildwachter's speciality is carriages for dectors, contractors, and collectors, but he has a large callection of surreys, runabouts, and other trap in stock. A bargain sale in surreys and runabouts is being heid this month.

Hilton, Hughes & Co, have added a new feathargain sale in surreys and runabouts is being held this month.

Hilton, Hughes & Co, have added a new feature to the harness and saddlery department of their big Broadway store, chiefly for the accommodation of out-of-town patrons. They now send an experienced man anywhere within forty miles of New York to take the measure and fit harness to horses. This is done without oxtra charge to buyers, although the firm make a specialty of selling everything in the line of stable requisites and horse goods, harness included, at cut rates.

Bargain hunters will find it worth while to visit the carriage repository at 405 West Fourteenth street, hear Ninth avenue, before buying. The stock comprises a full line of carriages and traps, new and second hand, which have been taken in trade to be sold for what they will bring. Bargains in second-hand, which have been taken in trade to be found at the Washington Wagon Works. 234 Hudson street. are also to be found at the Washington Wagon Works, 254 Hudson street.

Lawn Tennis at Tuxedo. Trueno Paux, June 20. Favo able weather grocted the opening of the Tuxodo tennis tournament here to day. The men's singles were the only events at-tempted, owing to the atomice of a number of players who are competing in the West Side meeting in New York. Only seven matches were run off during the afternoon, but the indications are that to morrow will see everything in full swing, including the men's doubles and consolation singles. Taimage had an upset to-day in the proliminary round at the hands of Hooker of Yale, who displayed good ability in handing his opponent's quick net play. The Tuxedo Cup is at present heid by Malesim Chare, who has already wen it twice, and another victory will make it his to keep. Chace has notified the committee that he will be an hand to defend his title to it, and the probabilities are that he will be successful. The score Men's Singles. Preliminary Round-E, V. Bleycle Riders to Take Part in a Big Parade at Long Branch.

Bicycle parades are now engaging popular attention and are fast rivalling the annual coaching parades for prominence. The New Jersey coast is noted for its excellent roads and its large number of bicycle riders, and the plan has been conceived by the summer residents in Monmouth county and its vicinity to hold a big parade. Arrangements are being made to hold a bleycle parade at Long Branch on July 18. A committee consisting of the residents of Long Branch, Hollywood, and Norwood Park, including Joseph J. O'Donobue, W. Hildreth, Fred Hoey, B. F. Goodspeed, Jefferson Seligman, H. B. Moore, and Joseph Rothschild have been selected to arrange for the affair. Invitations will be sent to all the clubs in this city, Brooklyn, and New Jersey to take part. Prizes will be offered as follows: Club presenting best appearance, club having the greatest number of members in line, two prizes for the best appearance of visiting club, two prizes for New Jersey club presenting best appearance, prizes for the best costume, most graceful women and man, two prizes for the loys' di-vision, and two prizes for the girls' division, prizes for the best fancy costume, most gro-military division. The recent announcement in Tur Sun that Chairman Gideon of the L. A. W. Racing Board is looking into the records of some of the leading amateur riders in this city, on Long Island, and over in New Jersey has caused some uneasiness in the ranks of the racing men. It has been rumored for some time that some of the riders prominently identified with bleycle and athletic clubs in this city have been violating the amateur rules, and Chairman Gideon has put himself in communication with A. D. Walte, the Chairman of the State Hacing Board, and the official handicappers for this State and New Jersey, with the object of securing some substantial testimony against the riders with which he can suspend them. A prominent member of the League of American Wheelmen, stated yesterday that Gideon has been kept well informed and will take action upon a number of cases immediately after July 4. clubs in this city have been violating the ama-tesque special combination tandem, and best of cases immediately after July 4.

The victory of C. S. Henshaw over F. F. Goodman in the one-mile metropolitan championship race at Manhattan Beach on Saturday was widely discussed among riders yesterday. Goodman was the favorite, and his record as a racing man places him in advance of Henshaw. The latter's victory is attributed solely to the use of the "quad" as a pacemaker, as Henshaw secured the best position, which, with the excellent pacing, pulled him out a winner in 2 minutes and 4 seconds, the fastest mile he ever rode. He has received great credit for his victory, but his win has again brought up the question of the justice of special pacemaking in competition races. An amateur racing man called attention yesterday to the suggestion in The Sun on June 21, that special pacemaking should be abolished in competition races, and expressed the hope that the racing officials would take steps to make the petition races, and expressed the hope the racing officials would take steps to mai pacing rules stricter.

The success of the race at Manhattan Beach on Saturday has induced the Century Wheelmen of this city to apply for a sanction to hold a tournament on Aug. 15. The Harlem Wheelmen has also decided to hold a meeting in the fail. The checking facilities at Manhattan Beach on Saturday were inadequate, and it is alleged that fully 500 riders left the grounds because they could not get their wheels checked. At future meetings provision should be made to increase the number of wheel rack, as the bleycle rider to-day, in the majority of cases, rides to races, avoiding the trolley cars and the railroad trains.

Hacing men and the patrons of the sport.

Racing men and the patrons of the sport claim that race promoting clubs should arrange their racing programmes for no more than five races, including both amateur and professional events. The Kings County Wheelmen on Saturday ran off their final races after 7 o'clock, when it was about dush and the racing enthusiasts were wishing themselves at home. The interest taken in racing to-day draws an enormous entry list for amateur races, and as a result races have to be divided up into four and five heats, prolonging even a five event meeting into about fifteen races. In England big entries compelied the racing clubs to cut down their races so that only four and five races are to be handled, it is suggested that only half-mile trials be run for the one-mile races, and one-mile trials for the two-mile races, and one-mile trials for the two-mile races. Such a system would help the management considerably. NOTES.
